Please restrict the taxon to the most certain level: a genus and species is easy to determine, subspecies / varieties / forms are often very difficult to identify. Add particular characteristics or uncertain identification as a comment. If the seed is the result of an interspecific or intergeneric cross, use the following standard formula: pod-parent (developed the seed) x pollen-parent (provided pollen).

The seed bank restricts availability when the supply runs low: when the packets for a species falls below the amount of donors with credits, those species are available to donors only for a fixed amount of time. This promotes donations, but you might find this scenario unfit. That's why there's an option called "Donors Only" that allows you to instruct us how to handle your donation, tick the appropriate box.
